Loyalists Decide Today Whether To Quit or Fight

Government And Army Leaders Confer As Paris Hears Negotiations Open For Surrender; Franco Hurries Victory March of Insurgents.

BULLETIN

LE PERTHUS, French-Spanish Border—(AP)—Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops, conquerors of Catalonia, reached the French-Spanish border at Le Perthus today and planted their flag at the Spanish side of the boundary.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(AP)—Spanish government officials today abandoned Minorca, leaving aboard the British cruiser Devonshire, giving rise to belief that the strategic, well-fortified Mediterranean island had been surrended to the Insurgent regime.

(By United Press)

PERPIGNAN, French-Spanish Frontier—Spanish Loyalist leaders expect to reach a final decision by tonight on continuing the civil war or surrendering to the Nationalists, it was understood today.

Premier Juan Negrin, Foreign Minister Julio Alvarez del Vayo, representatives of the Catalonian government and members of the army general staff met at house No. 22 on the broad highway which runs through Le Perthus to make their decisions.

"Nothing has yet been decided," Del Vayo told the United Press.

It was intimated that within a few hours the world might know whether the Loyalist leaders had decided to give up a fight which all now knew was hopeless, or to fight on, hoping for favorable peace terms and at the same time, gambling on an outbreak of war in Europe which would force France to intervene and save the Republican cause.

Hear of Negotiations.

There were persistent reports from Paris that Gen. Jose Miaja, Loyalist commander in chief in central Spain, had asked France for a safe conduct to leave the country and was negotiating with the Nationalists on surrender.

Other reports, as persistent—and coming direct from central Spain—said that Miaja, above all men, favored a finish fight.

Foreign Minister Del Vayo said at a frontier press conference:

"Everything is not lost. The central zone has not surrendered and is not asking a separate peace.

"The Republican government is willing to halt the war on the conditions it has laid down that safety be assured for all Loyalists, that foreigners quit Spain immediately and that the people be allowed by plebiscite to decide on their form of government."

Great Issues at Stake.

These reports were typical of the confusion which was but natural in a situation such as this, where not only the fate of hundreds of thousands of individuals but great world issues were at stake.

Loyalist leaders themselves did not know what to do. Catalonia was lost. No one had the slightest doubt that the Nationalists could take central Spain if they had to. But Generalissimo Francisco Franco had refused all peace terms.

It was surrender abjectly, without condition, or fight on—always gambling on an explosion that would involve all Europe, or on the possibility that the great powers would induce Franco to be generous in victory.

Bargains—That's Password As City Stores Open Event

Thrifty housewives and shoppers of Mansfield and vicinity will lay everything else aside for the next two days and concentrate on the bargains being offered by 50 merchants during the semi-annual Community Bargain Days. Stores open, with thousands of bargains, at the usual hour Friday morning and the event continues until 9 o'clock Saturday night.

Bargain Days have been arranged by the Retail Merchants' association and will include a wide variety of merchandise—wearing apparel of all kinds, furniture and home furnishings, drugs, cosmetics, and many other items.

Stores participating in the event will be marked with green pennants and signs. Some idea of the type of bargain offered may be had by carefully reading the Community Bargain Days' edition in today's News-Journal.

A special parking courtesy will be extended to all out of town cars displaying the coupon in today's issue of the paper.

ORDERS SEWER WORK RESUMED

Mayor Instructs Statler to Put Stroup Back on Survey and Pay His Salary.

City Engineer W. C. Statler today was ordered by Mayor Claude M. Hunter to place Owen W. Stroup, WPA draftsman, back on the sanitary sewer survey which was halted last week, and to pay the wages from a $500 fund set up in the annual appropriations bill for that purpose.

Hunter acted after he discovered that Stroup was not on the job today and that a delay in the survey of at least three weeks was likely unless immediate action was taken.

At the same time Hunter announced that he would seek the release of $9,000 in "frozen city assets," the balance of a $200,000 bond issue used for the construction of the sewage treatment

COLD MISSES US

Southwest Wind Does Trick; Mercury at 30 Here.

The weather played a trick on Ohio today—but no one, with the exception of the coal man, was very disturbed about it.

The cold wave that rode out of the west yesterday missed Ohio, because of a kindly southwest wind that steered it away from this area. Forecasts indicated that temperatures would probably remain in the 30's, with rain or snow in the northern part of the state.

Mansfield's low for the past 24 hours was 24, while yesterday's high was 53. At noon the temperature was 30.

The west, meanwhile was still in the grip of the cold wave. Even Los Angeles had snow and a temperature of 37.

FIRM EXPECTS CHANGE-OVER IN 18 MONTHS

Announcement Made as Rural Customers Get Free Inter-Exchange Service Again.

COUNTY TOLLS REMOVED

Charge in Effect One Month Dropped After Subscribers Confer With Officials.

Announcement of installation of dial telephones in Mansfield probably within the next 18 months grew out of a conference at the Mansfield Telephone company headquarters last night when company officials agreed to restore free inter-exchange service in southern Richland county.

The first step toward conversion of the city's telephones to the dial type will be the installation of automatic switching apparatus at the Ontario sub-station of the company in June, Gustav Hirsch, consulting engineer for the company, said.

New Equipment Needed.

The company's exchanges in all other sections of the county already have dial telephones, but connecting sub-station equipment to lead into Mansfield must be installed before automatic telephones can be installed here, he added.

Cost of installing dial equipment in the 12,200 homes in Mansfield with telephones was estimated at $150,000.

"Our equipment here is already completely automatic and after calls leave the switchboard operator they are handled as they would be with a dial system," Hirsch explained.

Subscribers Agree To Aid.

A dispute over the collection of tolls on inter-exchange calls in the Lexington, Belville and Butler districts was settled at last night's meeting when telephone company officials agreed to restore free service if rural subscribers help the company to curb the free use of telephones by non-subscribers.

The toll charge was removed today after a committee of 14 members representing the three villages in the southern part of the county pledged their help in preventing non-subscribers from using telephones for social calls.

The agreement was reached following a two-hour conference during which members of the committee protested the paying of a toll charge which has been in effect since Jan. 13.

"We put the toll in effect to reduce the number of free calls by 'telephone hitch-hikers', and now we may have to devise a method of policing every inter-

MURDER VERDICT

Huron Coroner Holds Traffic Victim Killed Intentionally.

NORWALK—(AP)—A verdict of "homicide by a person or persons unknown," was given today by Coroner J. D. Bradish in the death of Carl Schlett, 27, of Sandusky, whose body was found Jan. 27 along a roadway near Bellvue.

The coroner said the fact that Schlett was out in a snowstorm at night without his automobile at the place where the body was found led him to believe "there is good reason for a grand jury investigation."

Mother In Hospital, Family Of 4 Left Homeless By Fire

A double-header of ill luck struck the Rudolph Burggraf family yesterday when the mother underwent a serious operation at General hospital just a few hours before their home at 404 Fifth avenue was partially destroyed by fire, all of their clothing and much of their furniture destroyed and the family of three children and their step-father left homeless.

Fire which started in the stairway of the story and a half frame house at 11 p. m. caused considerable damage to the interior of the house before the fire was extinguished by companies No. 2 and 4.

All of the family clothing and bed clothing as well as furniture of the second floor was destroyed by fire or ruined by water. All members of the family were on the first floor and saved a few pieces of furniture.

Besides the step-father, there were three children in the house; Robert Ellis, 18, Louis Ellis, 14 and Marjorie Ellis, 11. They were given shelter last night in the homes of neighbors. This morning emergency clothing was supplied by the Volunteers of America and the family was to be outfitted with clothing and bed clothing this afternoon at the county relief office. The father is unemployed. The mother, Mrs. Lucille Burggraf, had been employed at the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company until taken ill recently.

The family is in need of household furnishings, especially mattresses and dressers. The Volunteers of America will call for furniture if anyone has odd pieces to contribute.

Arant, dean of Ohio State university, Columbus, to the Sixth circuit court, and John T. Cahill as United States attorney at New York. All are classed as liberals.

Scouts Have a Big Day, But Fail to Catch Dent

Executive, Usual 'Goat' of Annual Event, Outsmarts Scout 'Police'—Attends Picture Show.

Mansfield's city government was back in the hands of duly elected officials today, after being taken over for a day yesterday by Boy Scouts, who agreed that the day was a success—but would have been more so if they could have found Scout Executive Floyd Dent.

Dent, who is usually made the "goat" for the annual event, managed to outsmart the Scouts, in spite of a city-wide search they made for him—they threw out what is sometimes called a "dragnet."

Finds It Very Simple.

He did it very simply, too—he just went to a picture show, while 20 Scouts directed by "Police Chief" Robert Burns looked all over town for him.

If he had been caught he would have been arrested on a charge of petty larceny. The Scout police insisted he had stolen a 25-cent wrist watch. (Nothing was said about whether it had works in it.)

Dent was tipped off by another Scout that the "opilce" were on his trail at noon.

At the restaurant where Dent usually eats, the pursuers missed him by only a few minutes. Then they got word that he had gone to Shelby (they think Dent put

CASE CONTINUED

Hearing of Charges Against Autoist Delayed Week.

The case of Russell L. Tappan, 219 South Mulberry street, charged with leaving the scene of an accident, which was to have been heard in municipal court this morning, was continued by Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch until next Wednesday on motion of City Solicitor Marion D. Ward.

Ward said that he had asked for continuance to allow police to complete their investigation into the accident in which Howard W. Fox, 268 Harker street, allegedly was struck by Tappan's car last Saturday. He said that Police Chief Meade K. Bates had sent some evidence, including paint which had been found on Tappan's car to the FBI in Washington for analysis, and that the delay was necessary until the federal report is received.

Neither the prosecuting witness, Fox, who signed the affidavit, nor Tappan, who is under $200 bond, were in court this morning.

BOY, 2, DROWNED

Body of Ashland Child Found In Pond Near Home.

ASHLAND—A verdict of accidental death by drowning was returned today by Coroner Dr. W. F. Emery in the death of James Ervin Shoup, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Shoup, R. D. 1, Ashland. The child was found in the pond across the road from his home at 2 p. m. yesterday by H. J. Weikel. He was taken to Good Samaritan hospital where attempts were made to revive him.

Mrs. Shoup said she had let the child go outside to play shortly before he was found in the pool. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Asks 'Wrecking Crew' For Liquor Clean-Up

Kyle Sends Appeal to State as Aftermath of Beer Ban Vote.

WRITES LEONARD

Denies Responsibility of City In Forcing Law Observance.

The state board of liquor control was asked today by Councilman George C. Kyle to send a "wrecking crew" to Mansfield immediately, to bring about the enforcement of its regulations here.

In a letter to Wellington T. Leonard, former Mansfielder and member of the board, Kyle said:

"I am appealing to you and the board to send in a wrecking crew. I mean someone with the guts and backbone to do the job and bring the quotas down to within the law."

Only Good Business.

The letter follows the assertion made by Kyle at Tuesday night's council meeting to the Richland County Ministerial association delegates and council members that it was "only good business" to appeal to the state for assistance in cleaning up the liquor dispensing set-up in the city.

Kyle has charged that there are more liquor permits in Mansfield than prescribed under the liquor board regulations, and it is this particular item that he has demanded be investigated.

Kyle's action follows council's refusal, by a 5 to 3 vote Tuesday to place a Sunday ban on the sale of 3.2 beer here. Kyle voted against the ban.

Kyle reiterated today that the liquor business was the state's program and that it should be charged with liquor law enforcement. He said that he didn't feel that it was a question for local authorities or legislators to deal with.

Cites Differing Factions.

Kyle pointed out in his letter that Leonard was familiar with the particular situation here concerning two factions among the permit-holders.

Kyle explained his reference to that particular paragraph by stating that he and Leonard had previously discussed the situation in Mansfield and that Leonard was familiar with past requests made by two factions of permit-holders.

"That is the reason I have requested that the state come here and clean up the matter," Kyle said. "It's not a question for council to decide. The state is in the liquor business, not us."

Barber Got Trimming This Time

GOLDSBORO, N. C.—(AP)—A customer walked into a barber shop, gingerly set down a box and ordered the works. The bill was $1.50.

Explaining he had left his money at a hotel, the stranger told Barber E. A. Thornton to "keep that box there until I get back."

When he did not return after several hours, Thornton called a policeman who opened the box. It was filled with newspapers. Wrapped in their center was a brick.

POPE PLAGUED BY PNEUMONIA

Bronchial Ailment Develops From Influenza Attack, Vatican Source Says.

BULLETIN

VATICAN CITY—(INS)—Pope Pius XI today suffered another heart attack. The attack occurred while the Pontiff was abed with a cold that apparently had been taking its normal course before the setback.

(By Associated Press)

VATICAN CITY—An informant familiar with the state of Pope Pius XI's health said today the pontiff's attack of influenza had developed into bronchial pneumonia.

The Holy Father's condition was reported to have taken a turn for the worse during the day after Vatican sources in the morning had described it as unchanged since yesterday.

Several doctors were understood to be in constant attendance at the pontiff's bedside.

The reported aggravation of his illness caused serious concern because of the Pope's weak heart.

Although his holiness was reported this morning to be determined to take part in week-end ceremonies commemorating the tenth anniversary of the Lateran accord and the 17th anniversary of his coronation, it was believed in the afternoon there was virtually no prospect of his being able to leave his bed.

The 81-year-old pontiff suffered a mild attack of influenza two days ago.

The Pope has been plagued by repeated attacks of illness during the past year or more. His condition at times was regarded as extremely grave but each time he recovered sufficiently to resume his duties.

Former provisions that the tax levies be earmarked for schools were deleted in the tax bills and proceeds will be paid into the general fund.

Sweeping Revisions In Wagner Act Offered By Senator Burke

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Senator Burke (D-Neb.) proposed today that congress virtually rewrite the Wagner labor relations act and set up a new kind of federal board to administer it.

He completed a series of sweeping amendments designed to protect employers as well as workers in labor disputes, to impose restrictions on various union activities, and to limit the powers of the national labor relations board.

Accusing all three members of the present board of being "organized labor partisans," Burke recommended that their terms of office be ended next Feb. 1. In their places he would have the president appoint one representative of employes, one of employers, and one of the public.

The authority of the new board would be much narrowed than that of the present agency, with which Burke has been involved in controversy almost since its inception.

Labor cases could be removed from it to a federal district court, leaving the board only the power of prosecution of a labor complaint. All its rulings would be subject to prompt court review. It would have to give preference to craft unions in determining collective bargaining units.

Burke would let employers petition the labor board for collective bargaining election, a right now given only to employes.

LINER FAILS TO FIND TRACE OF FREIGHTER

BROADCASTS SOS CALLS

Storm-Struck Carrier Wires Heavy Seas Broke Open Seams on Sides.

BULLETIN

CHATHAM, Mass.—(U.P.)—Radiomarine received a message today from the S. S. Aurania reporting that she had sighted wreckage at 9 a. m. (EST) in the approximate position where the British freighter Marie De Larrinaga was in distress. The radio message said that hatches, covers and oars were floating in the vicinity.

(By United Press)

NEW YORK—The passenger liner Veendam reached the last known position of the British freighter Maria de Larrinaga in mid-Atlantic today and found nothing. It was feared that the freighter had gone to the bottow with its crew of 37 men.

Nevertheless, the huge Holland-American liner ploughed back and forth through mountainous seas, seeking some trace of the Marie de Larrinaga whose radio had been silent for hours after sending a series of SOS calls and reporting that it was sinking.

First to Arrive.

It was the first of four passenger liners diverted from their courses by the Marie de Larrinaga's frenzied appeals for aid, to arrive at the position she last gave. She informed the other rescue ships, in a message intercepted by Radio Marine's Chatham, Mass., station that she had reached the position at 5:45 a. m., had found nothing, but was searching the vicinity. This message was sent at 6:13 a. m.

The last message from the stricken ship, received by Radio Marine's coastal station at Chatham at 9:25 p. m. (EST) was:

"SOS SOS all stations ashore and afloat please stand by. This ship has 37 men aboard so for the safety of these men please stop all radio telegraph signals."

Except for crisp messages among the rescue ships, the radio channel was kept clear throughout the night but there was no further word from the 4,988-ton vessel whose seams had burst as she wallowed in furious seas whipped up by a storm.

By OSCAR RUHL

MANSFIELD'S high school's basketball record against former N. C. O. conference rivals is still unmarred.

Mentor Russ Murphy's Tygers registered their third straight triumph over an ex-league foe last night at the expense of Ashland by a 39 to 29 margin.

A's Press Tygers.

While the score was decisive, the Tygers had their uncomfortable moments in the tussle staged before 1,100 spectators on the Ashland hardwood.

A spurt led by Tommy Scott in the final minutes enabled Mansfield to come out of the melee with a 10-point margin.

Height supplied by Dave Shelley and Jack Dugger on the offense was a major factor in the victory, the second of the season for the Tygers over the A's.

Shelley was particularly effective in scoring from rebounds. Four of the seven field goals he collected to help him tie the individual scoring record for the Tygers came on shots he took off the backboard. The center also contributed a free throw to run his total to 15 points, the same number tallied by Jake Lyons in the Sandusky victory.

The victory was also the third straight for the Tygers since their last setback administered by Bellevue, and their point total tied their own high mark of 39 accumulated against Cleveland West early in the season.

Mansfield turned in a fine performance against the A's, particularly on the offense, and might have won by a larger margin had they desired to use the pass into the pivot man more frequently.

Although they trailed 7 to 6 at the end of the first period, the Tygers received their biggest scare in the fourth period when the A's reduced what appeared to be a comfortable lead of six points to two, Phil Smith setting the pace for the hosts in the comeback.

But Scott immediately rallied his teammates with a pair of buckets and a free throw to put the decision under lock.

The first half was nip-and-tuck with the lead changing hands 10 times before Shelley batted in a pair of rebounds to give the Tygers a 17 to 14 edge at the intermission.

Mansfield never trailed again, but Coach John Longley's cagemen knotted the count at 20-all midway in the third period. A basket by Lyon from the corner broke the deadlock and staked the Tygers to a lead that they held until the finish, the quarter ending with he count 27 to 20.

All of the Mansfield points but one were garnered by four players, Shelley tallying 15, Dugger and Lyons eight apiece and Scott, four. Smith was high man for the A's, with an even dozen.

Last night's game was the first of two on tap for the Tygers this week. The Men of Murphy engage Willard on the Mansfield high court Friday. The Tygers' record now shows seven victories in 12 games.

Rally Wins Game.

The varsity Tygers were not alone in distinguishing themselves last night. The junior Tygers also heaped themselves with glory by handing the Ashland Jay Vees their first defeat in 12 games. The score was 19 to 17.

A free throw by Chuck Atton and a basket on a spin shot by Charley Burton in the final minutes knotted the count and won the ball game. Atton's toss tied the score and Burton's goal provided the winning points.

The junior Tygers tallied only five times from the field, but converted nine points at the foul line, Bob Beer contributing five. Dave Prion was high score man with seven. Duffey collected eight to lead Ashland, which held a 10 to 8 advantage at the half.

Sandwiches Game of 267 In Doubles League Series; Fensch's 640 High for Westinghouse.

WINNIE CLECKNER is one of the outstanding members of the bowling brigade this season. Bowling in the City Class A Doubles league at the Meder alleys last night, Cleckner collected another spectacular series of 680.

His big score in the fancy series was a middle 267 game, starting out with a "three-bagger." He picked up a spare and then stuck six straight into the 1-3 pocket before finishing with another spare.

Cleckner, who closed with a 225, and Cheney produced a 1237 total, which was featured by a 460 game. They took three decisions from Dale Cleckner, a brother, who got an even 600, and Neil Swank.

Cliff Forsythe battered the uprights for a 638 count, which he climaxed with a 255 game. Six strikes in a row featured his big game.

Jack Applan, with a 599, and Cecil Burdett added two victories at the expense of Clarence Meder and McKinley. Meder got a 598.

FREMONT—(AP)—Coach George Gruse announced today he would seek A. A. U. recognition of the 3:08.5 mark set last night by Fremont high school's medley relay team in a 56 to 10 swimming victory over Toledo Scott. Gruse said the national high school record was set at 3:10 in 1935 by Central high of Providence, R. I., and tied in 1937 by Trenton, N. J.

MANSFIELD SWIMMERS MEET TOLEDO DEVILBISS

The Mansfield high school swimming team will return to action in the home pool Saturday afternoon when they engage Toledo DeVilbiss in a dual meet.

The Mansfield tankmen failed to place in the Fremont relays last week-end, but are expected to offer the Toledoans an interesting battle for points.

Second Half Rally Wins For Simpson

Krupp, Roman Pace Bulldogs in Willard Victory.

Big third and fourth periods enabled Coach Jeff DeHaven's Bulldogs of Simpson junior high school to trim the Willard junior high quintet, 33 to 25, on the Willard court yesterday.

Trailing 6 to 2 at the end of the first period and 15 to 9 at the half, the Bulldogs, paced by Roman and Krupp, obtained their first advantage in the third quarter.

Simpson outpointed Willard 14 to 6 after the intermission to hold a 23 to 21 lead going into the fourth period while limiting the hosts to four points.

Most of Simpson's trouble was provided by Center Whisler, who was the scoring leader of the game with 18 points. Krupp tallied 13 for Simpson, with Roman contributing 10.

Otis Clingman Meets Brooks

Tangle in Semi-Final on Friday's Mat Card.

Otis Clingman, wild Texas lightheavyweight, will meet Bill Brooks of New York in the semi-final of Friday's mat card in the Armory. They will wrestle for two falls, with a 45-minute time limit.

Top match on the program and one which dwarfs the preliminaries in point of interest is the two fall, 90-minute time limit contest between Light-heavyweight Champ Mephisto and Kimon Kudo, the latter being Japan's leading threat to titular honors.

Mephisto is currently enjoying the greatest win streak of his career. Since taking the crown from Billy Weidner, he has defended his claims three times successfully—twice against the "invulnerable" Frankie Talaber of Chicago and once against Whitey Wahlberg of Duluth, Minnesota.

The champ will be gunning for his first victory over Kudo. Just prior to the Great One's return to world honors, he was defeated by the clever Jap.

One other bout will be added to the card, which gets under way at 8:30.

Only one undefeated team remained in the City Class A league today after the second night of play in the second round.

The surprise of last night's play at the Y. M. C. A. was the defeat of the First Lutherans, who won the first half championship without suffering a single defeat.

The Lutherans were taken into camp by a 23 to 22 score by Temple Emanuel, which now possesses the only unmarred second round record.

Au tallied 13 points to lead Central M. E. to a 25 to 21 victory over First Episcopal, the Methodists winning on a fourth period rally. Seifert tallied 10 points for the losers.

Mayflower, paced by Botzer's 11 points, won over the Park Avenue Baptists, 32 to 22, Denzel tallying 10 for the losers.

Led by Fogle's 18 points, First M. E. suffered the least difficulty in outpointing St. John, 43 to 22.

Yuncker Quint Bows to Bliss

Columbus College Again Proves Too Tough on Court; Westinghouse, Galion Teams Win.

By CHARLES MARTIN

CITY CLASS A basketball league players today are still trying to discover a way to halt the domination of the Bliss college quintet of Columbus over the circuit's top notch combines.

Three times the Bliss outfit has invaded Mansfield to tackle the city's premier amateur clubs and on each occasion it has emerged on the long end of the score.

Bliss' latest victory was a 24 to 22 triumph over the Yuncker Sports in the feature game of the league's interesting program on the Mansfield high hardwood last night before some 200 spectators.

The Westinghouse Electrics, the only other City league team on the card, came through with flying colors by turning back the Blessed Sacrament club of Newark, 38 to 31, in the middle game, while in the opening contest, the Rex Billiards dropped a 31 to 18 decision to the Globe Clothiers of Galion.

The Sports-Bliss affair developed into one of the finest defensive battles witnessed in the league this season.

Manager Jimmy Breres' team, strengthened by the addition of Tom Farrell, Elks Lodge star center, and Delnore Goldsmith of Galion, gave the touted invaders a real scare before it was over.

Bliss Holds Edge.

The Sports, playing without their star guard, LaVerne Gray, went into the final period trailing by an 18 to 20 count, but all they could do was match the visitors in the scoring column. Both clubs were limited to a pair of goals.

With 15 seconds to go, and still trailing by two points, the Sports got the ball out of bound near their own basket. Goldsmith took the pass near the corner of the court and tried a desperate shot, that bounded off the hoop and after Farrell missed on the rebound, the Bliss players tied up the ball until the final gun.

The Sports forged ahead in the early minutes of the opening stanza and maintained the lead until midway in the third period. In this frame, Bliss, seeking its 11th victory in 12 starts, suddenly got its famed passing attack to clicking and outscored Breres' club, 10-4. And that scoring splurge proved to be the deciding issue of the affray.

Yunckers team led, 8 to 5, in the first quarter, and 14 to 10 at the intermission, but Bliss went ahead 20 to 18, going into the final chapter.

The defensive strength of both clubs dominated the game. Only twice during the nip-and-tuck melee was either team able to work the ball in for under-the-basket shots.

John Harris, who was held scoreless in the opening half, paced Bliss' third period rally with four clever mid-court shots.

Hiram Harris, John's brother, and Farrell tied for individual honors with nine points apiece. Al Stickler and John Reese tallied eight and five points, respectively, to account for the balance of the Sports' score. Reese's floor game was a feature of the contest.

Topples Newark Team.

Westinghouse came through with a thrilling third-period rally to topple the tough Newark Class A church league team. But once the Electrics forged into the lead, they were impossible to stop.

Newark hopped into a commanding 13 to 6 advantage in the initial stanza, but saw its lead slashed to an 18 to 16 count at halftime.

And then Manager George Percy's charges went to work. Before the Church team could get organized, the Westies had a 27 to 18 lead, and were out in front, 27-21, at the end of the frame.

The Electrics points were well divided, with Howard Poole, George Hummel and Harry Ross, tallying nine apiece to pace the attack. Bernard Moats, set the individual tempo with 10. Incidentally, Ross registered all his points in the last half.

The Rex Billiards found two obstacles they were unable to overcome against the Clothiers. One was the large high school court and the other the Galion club's height advantage. The Cuemen, first round champions of the Senior league, play their games on the small Friendly House court.

The Billiards held the upper hand in the opening minutes of the game, but the Clothiers went ahead, 8 to 4, in the first frame, were leading, 20 to 16, at the half, and went into the fourth chapter holding a 20 to 16 advantage.

John Burnison, whose uncanny one-handed shots swished through the nets with ease, led the scoring with 10 points, while Tony Brucato and Mike Wentz paced the losers with four apiece. Mike Wentz' smooth foot work caused the Clothiers a lot of trouble.

Columbus South Grapplers Invade

Beaten 26 to 3 by Wadsworth on the home mat yesterday, the Mansfield high school wrestlers today started preparations for the appearance against Columbus South Saturday.

Saturday's match will bring Columbus South, which asked a postponement last week because of bad driving conditions, to Mansfield. The matches are scheduled at 1:30 p. m. at the high school.

The only Mansfield winner against Wadsworth was Bob McDonough, 125, who won on a decision from Smith.

The Wadsworth victories were scored by Dust, 95, over Bud Fisher on a fall in 3:52, Fighe over Fisher on a fall in 3:52, Fighe over Fred Gordon in 6:25, Casenhiser over Joe Tambureno in 1:25, Hall over Albert Young in 3:16, Rittenmiller over Wolff by decision and Klosterman over Frank Swartz by decision.

Madison Near County Title

A victory will cinch at least a tie for the Richland county league title for the Rams Friday night when they engage Lucas on the Madison court.

And if they're defeated, the Rams can turn the trick Saturday night when they travel to Bellville.

This is the only game on the county league schedule Friday as the other tilts billed were moved up to Tuesday. Lexington will be in action in a non-league game at Johnsville, however.

The N. C. O. conference games Friday send Ashland to Mt. Vernon (and the outcome of this game will have a lot to do with deciding the title), Bucyrus to Shelby and Galion to Marion.

HATCHES EGG IN HOSPITAL BED

Bored Patient Hears Chick Moving After 25 Days.

WAIKATO, New Zealand.—(AP)—Bored by a long spell in a local hospital, Harold Ryder amused himself by hatching out a chicken's egg in his bed.

After "setting" 25 days, Ryder heard the chick moving around.

Next day the shell split and out hopped a healthy White Leghorn chick.

Ryder kept the live chick hidden under the bedclothes another day, fed it on hard-boiled egg.

Mr. Estes Was Miserable Man Until He Took Some 'Vendol'

Prominent Local Citizen Tells Remarkable Experience With Medicine That Is Helping So Many People Here.

Was Dizzy, Had Pains All Over, Was Troubled Getting to Sleep, Then It Was Broken, Till Vendol Relieved Constipation.

Most everyone in Mansfield and nearby towns knows Mr. George W. Estes, proprietor of the Estes Coal and Ice Co., also the big meat, grocery, and vegetable market, and the man who supplied 23,000 Christmas trees here the past year. But not many know that for a long time he has been a miserable man, according to his own statement, so read how he describes it, and also how he finally found exactly the medicine he needed. Mr. Estes says:

MR. GEORGE W. ESTES

"I have been suffering for the last five years, and here of late I began to get worse. Sometime while at work, I would become so dizzy someone would have to take me home, and I'd stay away long enough to get myself together again before returning.

"I have suffered such pains in my arms, legs and back I could hardly bear it, and I couldn't bend over except with great difficulty and much suffering.

"I had a lot of trouble getting to sleep at night, then it would be broken and I'd arise next morning feeling all tired and no account. This was hard on my disposition, which, I'm afraid, wasn't always what it might have been. Really, my nerves were so bad I was almost turning into a 'jitterbug.'

"Someone advised me to try Vendol as everybody had a good word for it so I started taking it, and I never had any medicine do as much good as four bottles have done. It relieved my constipation, then all the other troubles just grew less and less every day till now even my employees say my disposition shows improvement, and I feel grand.

"I haven't had a dizzy spell recently, the aches and pains are gone, I enjoy restful sleep, and truly feel like a new man. Vendol deserves all the praise given it, and I am glad to give this public statement as to how it helped me, because I know there must be many people here in our home town who are suffering like I did and want to know what to take for it. So, my advice to them is to start on Vendol without waiting another day."

The Vendol Man is daily at Central Drug Store, Main and Fourth, to fully explain about this great remedy. Don't put off seeing him. Give Vendol a chance to help you, too. It is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

NOTICE!

Because, through no fault of its own, The News-Journal has been printing the comic strip "Tailspin Tommy" ahead of the regular release dates, appearance of the feature has been temporarily suspended.

However, the comic strip has not been discontinued.

It will reappear with no interruption in the continuity of the story on Saturday, Feb. 25, in the week-end green tabloid, in which it will appear thereafter.

The new and popular strip, "Blondie," now appears on this page daily.

MINOR PRICE CHANGES RULE STOCK MARKET

Business News Continues as Cheerful Influence in Mixed Session.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Efforts to extend Wednesday's quiet rally met with an indifferent reception in today's stock market.

Improved were General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Marshall Field, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Great Northern and Standard Oil of N. J.

Business news continued as a cheerful market influence, brokers said. Bonds pointed a trifle higher and commodities were mixed.

Financial quarters found encouragement in the Dun & Bradstreet summary of the country's bank clearings for the week ended yesterday. It was disclosed the total jumped 25.9 per cent over the corresponding period a year ago.

Among props for motor shares was the announcement of the Automobile Manufacturers association that factory sales of passenger cars and trucks in January exceeded the like 1938 month by 57 per cent.

BEES GET VACATION

To Get the Best Cough Remedy, Mix It at Home

Real Relief. Big Saving So Easy. No Cooking.

This famous recipe is used by millions of housewives, because it makes such a dependable, effective remedy for coughs that start from colds. It's so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, well-known for its effect on throat and bronchial membranes.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. It's no trouble at all, and takes but a moment. No cooking needed.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of very effective and quick-acting cough remedy, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be amazed by the way it takes hold of coughs, giving you delightful relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

PLANS SHIFT TO DIAL PHONES

Company Says It Expects Change-Over to Be Made Within 18 Months.

exchange call through the Lexington, Bellville and Butler exchanges," Hirsch said.

"Collection of tolls on rural inter-exchange calls costs us more than we received from them, so it certainly was not a plan to make profit for the company," he told the committee.

The protecting committee was headed by Earl W. Logan, Washington township trustee, who submitted petitions bearing the signatures of 124 of the 138 subscribers in the three village communities. The petitions asked for the removal of the toll which was 10 cents for station-to-station calls and 15 cents for personal calls.

Frank Griebling, Lexington postmaster and president of the Lexington Service Men's club, presented a resolution of the club asking removal of the toll.

Discuss Co-operative.

While the conference was in session last night at the telephone company's office, directors of the Richland county farm bureau voted to investigate the sentiment for formation of a co-operative telephone system in the county and pledged their help in establishing a company.

The proposal will be discussed at township meetings and action will be taken at a board of directors meeting next month, R. L. Smith, farm bureau president, declared.

G. H. Culler of the Monroe Township Telephone company, and C. R. Mengert, a Perrysville company subscriber, reported that non-profit organizations can furnish service for $1 a month when the subscriber owns his telephone and $1.50 when the company furnishes the equipment. Rural subscribers of the Mansfield Telephone company pay $2 a month.

Commenting on the co-operative proposal, Hirsch, the Mansfield company's engineer, said: "We welcome the organization of co-operative companies and will be glad to sell our rural lines to an independent company. We have found, however, that it is impossible for a co-operative organization to survive and provide the service required today at $1 a month."

Hirsch explained to the committee last night that the Mansfield company has spent over $1,000,000 in the past nine years for improvements to its equipment without increasing the rate to subscribers.

Before the hearing, members of the committee were conducted through the telephone plant by Hirsch, George C. Sommers, the company's traffic superintendent, and LeRoy Wittemire, manager of the company, who explained the operation of the system.

Another new power dive speed record is believed to have been made by army flyer Second Lieutenant Troy Keith, pictured, who flew his plane over Shreveport, La., at an estimated speed of about 670 miles per hour or 11 miles per minute. Although the plane buckled one of its wings during the dive, Lieut. Keith landed the ship safely. The pilot lapsed into unconsciousness at an altitude of 28,000 feet, but recovered sufficiently to regulate it at 9,000 feet.

SCOUTS FAIL TO CATCH DENT

that false rumor in circulation himself) and called Shelby police and asked that they arrest Dent and hold him for them.

But Dent wasn't in Shelby—he was in Mansfield. The "police" soon picked up the trail. He was seen, they heard, at a newsstand, but once again he had left just before the Scouts got there. Then the trail led to the Masonic temple, but again Dent was gone. The grapevine said Dent had gone to the bank—and once more he got away.

By that time, it was 2 p. m. and Dent was enjoying himself hugely. The Scouts were still doggedly on his trail.

Then Dent went to the picture show.

"I was sure they wouldn't look for me there," Dent recounted today, "and they didn't. I stayed there from 2 to 4:30, then went home and changed clothes and left for Shelby at 5:45 to speak at a Scout dinner.

"But," he concluded, "I know how a hunted criminal must feel."

ORDERS SEWER WORK RESUMED

plant in 1935, as the first step toward financing the reconstruction of the sanitary sewer system.

The mayor will ask a ruling from City Solicitor Marion D. Ward today on the advisability of using the fund balance for conducting the engineering survey.

"We have reached a critical point in the matter of sanitary sewers," Hunter pointed out, "and it is time that the funds which have lain idle be put to a necessary use."

A $200,000 bond issue and PWA funds financed the construction of the sewage plant. The $9,000 was left over after the project was finished. The mayor said city officials had "steered clear" of appropriating it except for the construction of a trunk line sewer.

He pointed out that the bond ordinance provided that the funds could be used in connection with engineering work for the sewer system and it was on this point that he would ask for Ward's opinion.

Release of the funds would allow for the hiring of an engineering force that would conduct the survey of the sewers, now only partially completed because of the lack of help in the engineer's office, the mayor said.

Stroup has been working on the maps for the past six months but was taken off the job last week when WPA officials closed down the city records project on which he was employed.

WPA officials promised the mayor that the project would be reopened in three weeks and that the draftsman would be re-employed. They proposed that the city pay Stroup's wages during the temporary lay-off in order not to hold up the survey.

Meanwhile Hunter said that he would push his plan for a bond issue from $50,000 to $100,000 to revamp the city's entire sewer system. He already has asked Statler for an estimate on the job.

CLARICE KANABLE MARRIED TO BERNARD ROSE IN CLEVELAND

GALION—In a quiet but impressive ceremony at high noon today, Clarice Josephine Kanable, daughter of Mrs. Walter C. Kanable of Galion, became the bride of Bernard Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rose also of Galion. The single ring service was read in Rabbi Silver's Temple in Cleveland by Rabbi Melbourne Harris.

Present for the ceremony were members of the immediate families; the bridegroom's brother, Richard Rose of Galion, and Mrs. H. G. Rhoades of Mansfield, aunt of the bride.

For her marriage the bride wore a costume suit of powder blue crepe with matching accessories. Her outfit was completed with a shoulder corsage of orchids, and a diamond necklace which had been worn by her mother on her wedding day.

Following the ceremony there was a wedding dinner served to the wedding guests at Crosby's Tea room in Cleveland.

Both young people are well known in Galion, the bride graduating from Galion high school in 1936 and later attending the Columbus Art School. For the past two and one-half years she has been employed by the Mansfield Telephone company in Mansfield.

Mr. Rose was graduated from Galion high school in 1933 and furthered his education by attending Western Reserve university, Cleveland. He is a salesman for the Stratbury Manufacturing company here.

The couple left on an extensive trip through the southwest where Mr. Rose will represent his company. In June they plan to return to Cleveland to make their home. For traveling the bride wore a smart gray wool suit with harmonizing accessories.

RURAL SCHOOL ENROLLMENT UP 84 OVER 1938

4,714 Attending County Rural Institutions; Report Lists 30 One-Room Schools.

Richland county's rural schools had 4,714 pupils enrolled at the beginning of the second semester, an increase of 84 over last year, figures compiled by Harry J. Sir Louis, county attendance officer, showed today.

The report listed 30 one-room schools and three two-room schools in the county. Madison township has five of the one-room buildings and the Mifflin, Bloominggrove and Butler village districts, four each.

The Sharon township schools topped the list in attendance for the first semester, with an average of 97.5 per cent. Madison township and Washington township schools were tied for second place with 96.2 per cent, and Lexington and Plymouth were third with 96 per cent.

Madison Leads

Enrollment in the Madison township schools, which includes the high school, three elementary schools and five one-room schools, totaled 922, nearly twice the enrollment of any other district.

Bellville had 518 pupils enrolled; Lexington, 472, and Butler, 472. There were 465 pupils in the Springfield township schools at Ontario, and 419 enrolled in the Union rural schools in Weller and Franklin township.

Other enrollments included Plymouth village, 378; Lucas, 310; Cass township (Shiloh) 253; Butler township, 133; Bloominggrove township, 116; Mifflin township, 107; Sharon township, 85, and Washington township, 63.

RICHEST IN EMPIRE

SYDNEY, Australia—(U.P.)—The London Board of Trade has just established Australia as the richest of British possessions. Annual revenue the past year totaled $959,500,000 as against $524,500,000 for Canada and $180,500,000 for New Zealand.

BIRD FLIES INTO BULLET

MELBOURNE, Australia—(U.P.)—Australian sportsmen labor under greater inconveniences from birds than sportsmen in any other part of the world. In addition to the huge crows which amuse themselves by carrying off golf balls, a magpie got in its work during a rifle match here by swooping down and intercepting the bullet of a contestant. It lost its life, and the rifleman had to fire again.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1939

As nearly as can be judged, the dictator nations are so anxious for peace that they'll go to war to prove it.

According to one doctor, an average head cold costs $15—which seems odd, considering how frequently they are given from one person to another.

Senators and congressmen should be patient—it will take a little time for President Roosevelt to realize that they are actually capable of thinking.

Sewer System Must Be Improved.

WHEN Mayor Hunter calls attention to the need for immediate action in improving Mansfield's sanitary sewer lines he touches on a matter of vital importance to the people of this city.

Considering an adequate water supply as the first essential of a community such as this, the next necessity is to provide means to dispose of sewage from all homes, public and commercial buildings and industrial plants in the city.

The recently installed sewage disposal plant is regarded as adequate for its purpose, but the network of small and large sewer lines leading to this point in the southeast section of the city have long been recognized as so faulty and inadequate as to be a serious health menace and constitute a nuisance to many residents of the city.

The necessary revamping of sewer lines will be a big job that will require considerable planning and preliminary work—first of which will be a complete survey of the present system by capable persons. Afterward will come the engineering work of drawing plans for a system of sanitary sewer lines that will not only provide for present needs but also anticipate future growth of the city, with trunk lines and laterals of sufficient capacity to accommodate service lines without the noxious back-ups that have become common in many parts of the city.

The matter of doing away entirely with the once common practice of connecting storm water drainage lines with sanitary sewers also becomes a problem of the proposed revamping, as no sewage disposal plant is designed to handle the excess of water that is thus poured into it.

It would be impossible for Mayor Hunter to overstress the importance of early action looking toward formulating and financing improvement of Mansfield's sewer system.

Greater Benefits From Inventions.

THOMAS EDISON'S birthday, Saturday, Feb. 11, is National Inventors' day, and the week is known, appropriately enough, as National Advancement week.

This seems an appropriate time to remark that, in spite of all that new inventions have done for America, they are not putting us ahead so rapidly just now as they might. Our Connecticut Yankees, actual and spiritual, are still inventing new devices, but it usually takes a long time to get them into productive operation. There is plenty of argument about it as inventors and researchers talk it over.

Some reformers may be going too far in their efforts to force useful inventions into production. But a patent lawyer of long experience says there is sense in such a suggestion. The 17-year period allowed an owner only starts, he explains, when the actual use of the patent begins. Thus a patent for something of great value to society may be held out of use many years.

He would shorten not the 17 years, but the time an owner may delay using his patent monopoly—which seems fair enough.

Scout Officials Express Views.

DIFFERENCES of opinion, as expressed yesterday by Boy Scout "city officials" on the subject of parking meters, provide an interesting slant on this controversial question.

It was contended by Richard Sowash, Scout mayor for the day, that parking meters would solve the problem of traffic congestion in the business section, while Robert Meese, Scout service-safety director, was as firmly of the opinion that continued enforcement of the law against overtime parking would meet all requirements, pointing to the experience of the past couple of weeks in support of his views.

Whatever may be the outcome in this particular instance, it is gratifying to know that Mansfield boys of scouting age are thinking along lines of possible civic betterment and evince excellent understanding of some of the matters now engaging public attention.

It also demonstrates the advantage of young people forming the habit of regularly reading a good daily newspaper, so as to keep informed on local, state, national and world happenings.

High Court Upholds Sunday Ban.

FOLLOWING Mansfield city council's defeat of an ordinance prohibiting Sunday sale of 3.2 beer, it is timely to note that the Ohio supreme court yesterday upheld an Akron ordinance to the same effect.

The legality of such legislation is therefore passed upon by the state's highest court, in the event Mansfield council should at any time decide to reconsider the action taken at Tuesday evening's meeting.

A Tribute From Eire.

THE IRISH government (meaning what used to be the Free State and is now Eire) is paying this country a nice compliment by issuing on March 1 two stamps commemorating an event in our history.

A threepenny stamp in blue and a twopenny stamp in carmine will bear an eagle, a profile portrait of George Washington and a harp. The eagle carries an olive branch in one claw and thirteen arrows in another. The inscription, in Gaelic, is translated thus: "The people of Ireland celebrate the 150th anniversary of the American Constitution."

Americans have sympathized with the Irish struggle for political freedom and have given financial help. They have particularly taken to their hearts the Irish poets and the Irish dramatic movement centered in the Abbey Theater in Dublin. St. Patrick's Day is an occasion here for the wearing of the green by many Americans not of Irish descent.

Keeping Step

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Some first class judges of Uncle Sam's western hemispherical defensive problem, as the subject becomes a more and more important issue on Capitol Hill, see that the aviation angle of the situation is being over-emphasized from the new world's standpoint.

Chairman David I. Walsh and Carl Vinson, respectively of the Senate's and the Representatives' naval affairs committees, of course are congress' leading boosters for increased Yankee sea power. They do not under-estimate the vital necessity of a formidable air arm to supplement Uncle Samuel's fighting fleet's efficiency. At the same time, the bulk of the advice they get from professionals is to the effect that surface strength afloat should be our first consideration.

Army men ditto, in their suggestions to Chairmen Morris Sheppard and Andrew J. May, respectively of the senate's and representatives' military committees. Not that the army crowd, either, speaks of aviation otherwise than as indispensible; still, it rates groundlings as the main thing in so far as this country is concerned.

True, navy and army alike will be glad of all they can get aerially, but they rate the heavens as secondary to oceans and terra firma for American military purposes.

I do not mean to say that there are not flying enthusiasts who contend that surface fleets and troops are obsolete, but they're in a minority.

Europe Is Different.

Europe, to be sure, is different. An aircraft from Berlin, say, could scoot over London or Paris and do incalculable damage and kill hundreds or thousands, and get home again, unscathed.

I saw one of the Kaiser's dirigibles try it over London in 1916. It was, indeed, while trying to make its get-away, shot down above the Thames estuary, but it had raised hades in the meantime.

Parenthetically, the English had been telling what awful things they would do to one of those crews of German pirates if ever they caught a few. Well, they did catch that dirigible-load—all of them survived except one who was drowned accidentally in the estauary. The prisoners were interned at Chatham Barracks. As a neutral correspondent, at that juncture, I interviewed them. The English officers had turned out of their quarters in the barracks and were sleeping in cots in the corridors, to furnish comfortable accommodations for their German captives.

But aviation today is not what it was then.

I have no doubt that, as of the present writing, a whole fleet of hostile planes (not mere dirigibles) could streak it over the British and French capitals, leaving them mere masses of ruins, and get away safely.

Such would be short-range operations.

But, manifestly, no effective air fleet could get, from Europe or Asia, to this side of the Atlantic or Pacific. A few aircraft, out of several thousands, might do it, and wreck a dozen or so of buildings in New York or San Francisco. Which would be very irritating, but militarily, of no consequence. They never would get home, either. That would not signify, a warrior expects to commit suicide—but he'd be wasted.

A landing and occupation obviously would be impossible.

It would be equally impossible for Uncle Sam to send an air fleet to Berlin or Tokyo.

Oh, yes, it might be done with an air base in England against Germany, or an air base in Manila against Japan. But it would be mighty unhandy in either case.

The nub of it is.

A lot of legislators think our aviation talk is purely hysterical.

Listen, World!

The Melting Pot That Didn't Melt.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

WE'RE shocked and amazed—most of us—at this sudden invasion of anti-American Isms.

"What's happened?" we ask each other. "Things didn't usta be like this. Why, when we were kids, foreigners thought America was heaven. Didn't we boast we were the 'melting pot of the world'? And now—lookit: Young Communist camps 'n' these Nazi parades! It's those Dictators—they're behind all this, plotting to ruin America!"

Guess again, partner. No one needs to plot to ruin America. We're making quite a swell job of it ourselves, and have been for the last fifty years. There's nothing new or unique about "subversive influences" or "enemy aliens." They've been here, all along, biding their time. But we Americans, with characteristic complacency, have refused to recognize the fact.

There never was a more dangerous fallacy than our childish belief that all immigrants came here because they loved and admired America. Millions of them came to get what they could while the getting was good—and for nothing else but. There were and are outstanding exceptions to this rule . . . intelligent individuals and groups sincerely inspired by the vision of Democracy, and who have contributed greatly to their adopted land. But there were others who were a menace from the day they landed . . . hopeless morons . . . vagabonds whom their native countries refused longer to support . . . deported anarchists who saw in the U. S. A. new fields for violence . . . criminals deliberately released from the jails of Europe and dumped on Ellis Island.

From such diverse and dangerous sources came the makings for our melting pot, to be speedily fused into one harmonious patriotic whole. Said we! And never did a nation kid itself more tragically. As a melting pot we were a magnificent success save for one slight failing—we didn't melt.

These unassimilated and unassimilable aliens knew nothing of Democracy and cared less. Even when they were hard-working and law-abiding, they felt only contempt for the "silly, extravagant, ignorant and vulgar Yankees," clung fiercely to the custom of the home land, where they banked their American-made money and bequeathed both contempt and customs to their children. Gathered in tight colonies where they spoke only their native tongue, ate only their native dishes, believed their native superstitions, they soon webbed America's map—yet remained as alien at heart as though they still lived in Moscow, Naples or Berlin.

While pickings were fat and life still easy, these malcontents kept the peace. But with Hard Times they became both voluble and vicious. The Depression was not a financial catastrophe to them . . . It was a personal outrage, deliberately planned to cheat and rob them. Had they not come to America under the assurance that they, too, would all be millionaires by 2 o'clock the next week? They had! But now where were the millions? . . . They were with that Thief, that Betrayer, that Judas, that Pig-dog Uncle Sam! Well, he should see—HE SHOULD SEE! So, even while they grabbed Relief food and rent, and lolled on W. P. A. projects, they were signing up with the nearest Communist, Nazi or Fascist unit—RESOLVED TO GET HUNK!

No Dictator was needed to plan America's darkest hour. No Secret Agent was required to introduce the germs of Subversive Influence. They have been breeding for three generations in those "quaint little foreign quarters" in every American city . . . protected by American police, educated by American schools, fed and housed and given medical service by American charities.

And now, of course, we think we need only say, "Naughty-naughty," and they'll stop it. Oh, y-e-a-h! Just try it! We've bred this scab on our own nose, neighbors, and we'll be a L-O-N-G time picking it off!

A Farmer's Diary

Stuck In the Mud.

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I GOT my car stuck in the mud. Out in the middle of the biggest field on the farm. On a miserable cold snowy night.

Now I am not a man who ordinarily gets stuck in the mud. I have been known to plow through it, and to collect a considerable amount upon my clothing and shoes, but that never worries me much. Mud is one of the fundamental mixtures of this earth and has its uses. Whole volumes could be written about the subject of Mud.

But I had never realized how full that big field was of it, or how black and frostily clinging it could be, until the other evening when I attempted to drive across to the woods—as I have been doing most of the winter—and bring home the children, who were out playing on the pond, and perhaps a few big chunks of firewood from the pile in the clearing, to keep my biggest stove warm all night.

All was fine until I was half way across. Then I noticed the wheels were sinking in, and attempted to speed up and get through the danger spot, since it was plain I would not dare turn back. Instead of getting out, I dug deeper in. When I got out to look, the wheels were sunk to the hubs, and the running board on one side rested upon the ground.

I was in what one of the old school readers used to call "a quandary." That is, I was sunk. Not only muddily, but mentally. I was low in the mud—and low in my mind. It was the kind of foolish escapade I would have scolded my own boy for, if he had been guilty of such misjudgment. But he hadn't.

At that moment I saw him coming across the field on a run, his eight-year-old eyes round at the spectacle I had created.

"Gee, Dad, you're stuck! You're awful bad stuck! How'd it happen?"

My daughter came up, out of breath. She eyed the car, took a long look at me, and began to laugh. (The girl is like her mother.)

"What you need is a raft, Daddy," she suggested demurely, after the snickers had subsided.

Well, my family tried for quite a while to help me extricate myself from the mess I was in. My wife held the lantern while the children and I carried sticks of wood, and made a corduroy road under the wheels. But corduroy roads weren't meant for motor cars. We went a few inches at a time,—and at that rate, we'd be there yet.

Finally I swallowed my pride and went to the neighbor's for help. My neighbor's blue eyes twinkled, but he got a rope and some chains, put on his old cap over his white hair, and went along back with me.

We put on the chains, and very slowly the car pulled out. Once she got going, I gave her the gas, and did not stop until I had reached the home garage.

The Human Side of the News

—By EDWIN C. HILL

AT FARAWAY FARMS, near Lexington, Ky., there lives in retirement a 22-year-old horse, worth more than $1,000,000, to his master at least. An offer of that amount for Man o' War was promptly and emphatically refused by Samuel D. Riddle, and with the coming of "one more spring," the grandest thoroughbred America ever produced will be peacefully grazing in the Valhalla of all great horses—the blue grass country of the great tradition of American racing.

Mr. Riddle, a Pennsylvania textile manufacturer who has been racing and breeding horses for more than half a century, is 77 years old. That makes them a pair of oldsters, and it is quite probable that there was more than a touch of sentiment in Mr. Riddle's refusal, as reported, to sell Man o' War to Louis B. Mayer, the motion picture producer.

It was rumored but not confirmed that the sale would have meant Man o' War's debut at Hollywood, with a new film built around the career of the famous racehorse. It would have made a great film, of course—Mickey Rooney hand-riding him home to thwart the gangsters and lift the colonel's mortgage, just as they used to pull it in "The Sporting Duchess," long before the days of the films; but somehow the dramatic unities would seem to require that he should end his days in blue grass—as long as Mr. Riddle doesn't need an extra million.

HE PROBABLY doesn't. Man o' War's get has earned $2,250,000. He won 21 races and earned $249,465. The great five-year-old, War Admiral, is a son of Man o' War. Not since the days of the Godolphin Barb, daddy of all the bang-tails, has a horse brought anything like this reported $1,000,000 offer for Man o' War.

Aga Kahn, the East Indian potentate who is paid each year with his weight in gold by his Mohammedan followers in India, and who never goes in for dieting, has paid and received some fancy prices for horses, the top being the sale of his Derby winner. Blenheim, to an American syndicate, for $250,000 in 1936. August Belmont's Tracery topped this, however, when he was sold to Argentine breeders for $265,000. That was a record. No other racer has ever come anywhere near Man o' War's flying heels when it comes to expensive horseflesh.

IT WAS not an accident that gave Mr. Riddle possession of Man o' War. It was calm, cool, seasoned professional judgment. His trainer, an experienced and shrewd judge of horses, went to Saratoga to look over a crop of yearlings at August Belmont's nursery stud. He could have bought them all for $35,000, but none of them looked like a world-beater. The next day, Mr. Riddle saw the colts with the trainer. He studied them carefully and then picked out a likely looking yearling. It was a chestnut colt by Fair Play-Mahubah.

"That one looks good," said Mr. Riddle. "Why didn't you get it?"

The trainer explained that it had not been included in the previous showing. Mr. Riddle bought for $5,000 the colt for which, 21 years later, he is said to have refused $1,000,000. Mr. Riddle, of Scotch-Quaker descent, has a keen eye for business as well as race horses, and his purely business deals have been marked by similar acumen. He lives in Delaware County, Penn., on the farm of 1,000 acres where he was born. He has cherished a life-long love for horses and used to ride to the hounds.

RACING has been making a strong comeback in the last twenty years, with many states legalizing the pari-mutuels, or easing up on their bans against bookmaking. Back in the reform days, it was pretty thoroughly plastered as a wicked diversion, along with John Barleycorn, card-playing and dancing. We seem to have recovered most of our lost peccadillos, but as usual, we are overdoing it here and there and scouts from the hinterland tell me that the reformers, particularly the prohibitionists, are warming up again.

The case of Bonfield, Ill., may or may not be significant. Here they have been lopping off one tentacle of wickedness after another, until at last they become a "sinless village," with a fine of $10 and costs for anyone caught playing rummy. There are no moving pictures, dance halls or pool rooms and, of course no liquor. This beatific cross roads is a reminder of what would happen to our economy if we all sprouted wings.

It is a dash of the old Adam in all of us that makes jobs for policemen, lawyers, judges, legislators, bailiffs, distillers, brewers, bookies, brokers, labor mediators, reformers, jailors, hangmen, sociologists and preachers. If, with little Bonfield leading the way, we knock out all these remunerative callings, along with the moving picture, night club, saxophone and playing card industries, there won't be much left. We would be sanctified but broke, and, of course, a new social system would follow.

Timely Editorial

Mooney, the Ex-Martyr.

Announcement that the California advisory pardon board has postponed its decision upon an application for the release of Warren K. Billings recalls how quickly the other figure in this sensational case appears to have slipped from public notice. For twenty years Thomas J. Mooney was a more or less constant center of agitation and sympathy as the alleged victim of "capitalistic persecution." Then a few weeks ago the new governor of California pardoned him.

There was a celebration. His friends accompanied him on a triumphal procession from prison, and Mooney made a little speech, on receiving his pardon, pledging his determination to help Billings gain similar freedom and warning the nation, rather superfluously, against the dangers of fascism.

And that is virtually the last the country has heard of him. Inside San Quentin prison Mooney was a martyr, a symbol of justice miscarried in a land where justice is still prized. But outside the penitentiary walls he seems to be proving just a rather unimpressive advocate of social reform and democracy whose principal claim to distinction has disappeared.—Kansas City Times.

VARIETY OF EVENTS CONDUCTED IN CITY

Birthday Parties, Housewarming, and Sessions of Smaller Card Clubs Provide Entertainment For Many Mansfielders.

A VARIETY of parties yesterday entertained the very young as well as their parents when card club members gathered and birthdays were the occasion for celebration. Two small girls, Louise Ellen Brucato, age 5, and her sister, Annette Jo, age 4, were guests of honor at a party given by their mother, Mrs. Joe Brucato, 2 Cole avenue, yesterday.

There were 16 children present for the games and contests which were won by Billy Reale and Barbara Wentz. Supper was served the children from a table decorated with Valentine appointments and centered with two birthday cakes.

There were three tables of cards in play yesterday at the home of Mrs. Raymond Fisher, South Diamond street, when she entertained members and one guest, Mrs. Dale McCready, of the Jolly Dozen Euchre club. Prizes were won by the guest and by Mrs. Floyd Canny and Mrs. Fred Schnitzer. Luncheon was served at the small tables, and the next meeting was announced for Feb. 22 at the home of Mrs. Harold Garn, 22 Woodland avenue.

* * *

Mrs. Albert Cook was hostess at her Bennett street home to members of the Friendly Eight club when they played bridge at two tables yesterday. Prize winners were Mrs. Herman Wentz, Mrs. Kemp Oswalt, Mrs. Lester Raby. After the serving of luncheon Mrs. Wentz, Newlon place, was named hostess for Feb. 23.

* * *

A housewarming party feted Mrs. Louise Ruhl, Marion avenue, when 27 members of the Past Matrans' club gathered at her home last night for a social session. Refreshments were served and the hostess was presented with a gift by the group.

LAUNDERING

Q. What is the advantage of using soap in "jelly" form? How is it made?

A. Soap jelly is practical for cleaning upholstered furniture, rugs, window shades, and other objects which are best washed without becoming water soaked. Prepare a mixture in the proportions of five cups of water to one-half cup of packaged soap or shaved bar soap. Bring to a boil to dissolve, then cool until a jelly-like substance forms. It can be kept indefinitely and the required quantities whipped up into a stiff lather when needed.

Wants To Run Home Right

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I wish to secure some literature on household economics, or anything that would help a young bride manage her household and select her meals, so that she may keep the love of a wonderful husband. Do you know of any book on this subject? I will be very grateful for this material, and I expect to be married shortly and want to do everything just right from the very beginning. Thank you. MARION.

I'm sorry you did not give me your name and address, and if you will do so, enclosing a 3-cent stamped envelope, I shall be more than pleased to send you the names of some very good books on this subject.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Do you think it's right for a girl who says she loves me, who agrees to marry me when I'm financially able, to turn around and go out with other boys? She claims she doesn't care anything about these boys, but the fact that she does it after promising me she wouldn't makes me think she's apt to be disloyal after we're married.

When I said this to her, she cried and said she would not do it again. But can I trust her? I love her and she really is a wonderful girl, and my family all think a great deal of her. If she really loves me, don't you think she'd be satisfied to go with me only? MAX.

I think you're taking this whole business too seriously, my dear boy. Yours is really only a tentative engagement, depending on your financial standing, and whether or not you'll be able to marry at all. It may be a long time in the future, and if she goes out occasionally with other boys, I don't think you have anything to fear. Modern young people, although engaged, are much less possessive than they were a generation or two ago. I hope you won't make her cry again by saying hard things to her.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, February 10.

Conflicting planetary operations seem to nullify a most propitious and promising state of affairs. The energies will be at fine tension and the objectives of a very exalted order. But a sudden and surprising occurrence will materialize to block the wheels. It may be a peculiarly sinister episode, possibly coming from an entirely unsuspected source or unscrupulous agency. Fraud, schemes, misrepresentation and hatred of pernicious force menace. These may be successfully met by prudence.

Those whose birthday it is are are the eve of a year of great activity, with opportunity for expansion, increased fortune and fulfilled ambitions. But this pleasant picture is menaced by a sudden and pernicious event which may disrupt the foundations of these prospects. The event has to do with plots, fraud, sinister machinations and unscrupulous attack, which may only be defeated by extreme prudence and good judgment, attended by drastic measures to circumvent duplicity.

A child born on this day may have ambitions in curious or novel directions, which may be pursued by intrigue, collision or other methods inciting bitter enmities or unscrupulous measures of reprisal.

Suggestions For Using Peanut Butter

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

HERE ARE more peanut butter recipes, given because a previous batch went over so well. Peanut butter is a nourishing ingredient in cooking and can be used to make some delicious sweets and desserts.

Peanut Butter Spanish Cream is a splendid party dessert; the recipe given here is for 10 portions. Use one and one-half cups milk, scalded, one tablespoon gelatin, two tablespoons cold water, two egg yolks, well beaten, one-half cup sugar, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half cup peanut butter, one cup cold milk, one-half teaspoon vanilla, two egg whites and two tablespoons sugar. Sprinkle gelatin over cold water, soak about five minutes. Add small amount of heated milk, stirring well. Add to remaining milk (in double boiler.) Combine egg yolks, one-third cup sugar and salt; blend thoroughly. Add a small amount of milk mixture, stirring well. Return to double boiler and cook for about five minutes or until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Cool. Place peanut butter in bowl, add one half of cold milk, whip with rotary beater until smooth, add remaining milk and whip until smooth. Blend with first cooled milk mixture. Add vanilla. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until foamy, add sugar gradually and beat until sugar is blended and egg whites are stiff. Fold in custard mixture. Turn into mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve plain, with cream, whipped cream or chocolate sauce.

Peanut Butter Mousse.

Peanut Butter Mousse is another inexpensive party dish. Half cup each peanut butter and milk, one-eighth teaspoon salt, three tablespoons light corn syrup, one egg white, one-quarter cup sugar and one cup heavy cream, whipped, will yield one quart. Place peanut butter in bowl, add one-half of the milk, whip with rotary beater until smooth; add remaining milk, and whip until smooth. Add salt and corn syrup. Blend. Beat egg white until foamy, add sugar gradually, beating until stiff and sugar is well blended. Fold in whipped cream. Add peanut butter mixture; blend thoroughly. Turn into tray. Freeze rapidly, without stirring, in automatic refrigerator. When frozen, set control at normal freezing temperature. For a variation, combine one square two teaspoons sugar and two tablespoons boiling water, and stir until sugar is dissolved. Cool. Add to peanut butter mixture. Blend thoroughly. Proceed as directed in recipe for peanut butter mousse.

Bavarian Cream made with peanut butter is something special. Two teaspoons gelatin, two tablespoons cold water, one-half cup peanut butter, one cup milk, one quarter teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon vanilla, one cup heavy cream, whipped, and one-third cup sugar will serve six. Sprinkle gelatin on cold water, soak about five minutes. Place over boiling water until completely dissolved. Cool gradually at room temperature. Place peanut butter in a bowl, add one-third of the milk, whip with rotary beater until smooth, add remaining milk, whip until smooth. Add salt, vanilla and cooled gelatin. Blend, chill until slightly thickened. To whipped cream, add sugar, and blend. Fold into peanut butter mixture. Turn into mold or individual mold. Chill one hour before serving.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

Only a few of Philip Veritzen's closest intimates knew the secret of his birth, which he had kept for so many years. I had learned long ago what Lillian had known even earlier than I, that by bar sinister he was a member of the royal family of Transvania, a close kinsman of the prince who had married the lovely half-English Princess Olga, and with her had ruled the picturesque mountain kingdom.

Now she was a refugee, first from the revolutionists who had abducted her, and who had been foiled by my father in charge of Philip Veritzen's yacht, and later from Philip Veritzen's generous care of her at the hospital, a generosity which she believed she could not accept.

My father had sent her and her daughter, Olina, to us at the farm, and her advent had been marked by a terrifying attempt to murder her, made by a man who had escaped my father's drag net.

Both Lillian and I, however, shrewdly suspected a reaction of Philip Veritzen's which had been his since the abduction of Olga.

For years, we knew, he had kept her flashing beautiful image, "the toast of Europe," in the back of his mind and heart, bringing it into the foreground whenever her activities brought her into public interest. He never had revealed his identity to her, but she knew him as a highly philanthropic American, deeply interested in all the causes which lay so near to her heart.

I knew that he was waiting for my answer as my memory roamed over the past. But something within me, a queer impulse to deny his request because of a vague fear of humiliation for Olga, made it impossible for me to speak for several seconds.

"Well!" he said at last, impatiently, "what is your decision? Will you grant my request, or will you deny it?"

I grasped at a straw for delay, held to it tenaciously.

"What about Mary's drilling?" I asked.

He gave an expressive shrug.

"If she can't do without you for one day," he said, "her case is hopeless. That's all I ask, one day. I will drive you down in the morning and back to the city at night."

"In that case," I said slowly, "I will go with you, and give you whatever aid or counsel you wish."

Fair Girls Must Watch Make-Up

(By MME. QUI VIVE)

Being born a blond is no guarantee that one will continue to belong to the light-headed sisterhood. The pink and white cherub with locks the color of corn silk can develop into a lady-person with an uncertain complexion. One's beauty responsibilities are almost more than one can bear, and the overhead is something terrible.

One must begin by selecting a wise mother who will give early, careful attention to skin and hair.

There is the problem of make up. No rule will do for all, since there are any number of types of blonds ranging from the whitegold top-knot to copper colored tresses into the red tones.

Because of the transparency and delicacy of the blond complexion it hasn't much resistance and is likely to wrinkle early. Another worry, but one which can be avoided by nourishing the tissues with a heavy cream, left on over night.

Tow heads wear black with splendor, it brings out their cameo loveliness. Navy blue is good. Deep rich browns are flattering. A blond girl in a beige or light brown frock may be too much of a color oneness. Redheads look heavenly in green and black is one of their best bets.

Mauve and orchid are better than light blue or French blue in which the blond may appear over fussy. If her hair has gone drab she must never wear sunny yellow, but she can tog herself up radiantly in certain shades of red and become radiant herself.

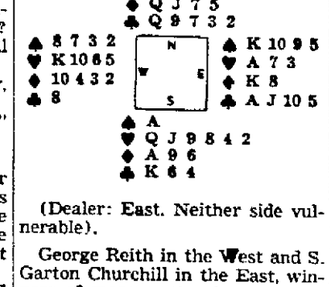
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T GUESS—COUNT!

IN MANY A situation, a guess can be avoided if the player will only count up to 13 and then do whatever substracting is necessary. That simple procedure can sometimes show you that beyond peradventure of a doubt a singleton king or ace is bound to be played on the current trick, so that you may therefore employ your own cards in the way you absolutely know will produce the best result.



(Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable).

George Reith in the West and S. Garton Churchill in the East, winners of many national events, got a clear top score on this deal in a recent tournament. The same bidding occurred at several tables. East bid 1-Club, South 1-Heart, East 1-Spade, South 2-Hearts, West 2-Spades, South 3-Hearts, and West doubled.

Also the play began the same at two tables, with West leading the spade 2 and the Q being put on from dummy. At one table East covered promptly with the K and the A won. Next the heart Q lured the K, a diamond brought the J, K and A, another diamond to the Q enabled the discard of a third diamond on the spade J, then a diamond lead, ruffed by East's heart 7, was overruffed by the 8. The heart 4 forced the A, then East lead the club A and another, West ruffing, South ruffed the return, dropped West's last trump and had the rest of the tricks, making his contract.

Mr. Churchill refused to play spade K on the dummy's Q, counting his partner for four because of his supporting spades and also knowing he would have led the A if he had it. South therefore had a singleton A. Ensuing tricks were the heart Q to the K, the spade 8 ruffed by South, heart J to the A, a heart to the 10, spade ruff, heart 9, club K to the A, spade 10, club J to the Q, two diamonds, then the club 10, so that it was set two tricks. South was beaten the moment Mr. Churchill refused to cover the spade Q.

My Neighbor Says:

The secrets of washing woolens successfully are: (1) plenty of suds; (2) luke-warm water throughout the washing and rinsing; (3) no rubbing or twisting; (4) drying at moderate temperatures, avoiding both heat and intense cold.

* * *

Always keep a pair of scissors in the kitchen. They may be put to a variety of uses including: cutting string and paper, shredding lettuce and other salad greens, mincing parsley and other seasonings, cutting nuts, citron and various cake and cooky ingredients, trimming off edges of meat, cutting cooked meat, fowl and fish into small pieces, dicing marshmallows and raisins, cutting waxed papers to fit cake and bread pans and trimming off the surplus fat from chops, roasts and steaks either before or after cooking.

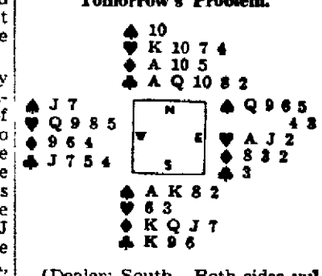
A little grated lemon and orange rind give an unusual flavor to meringues used for covering pies and puddings.

Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

With the diamond 9 led, how should South play for 6-No trump?

LIFTS JAZZ BAN

Hungary Thought It Unfit During Czechoslovakia Crisis.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, — (INS) — A four months ban on Jazz was lifted recently by the Hungarian Radio. When the conflict with Czechoslovakia started, Hungarian radio officials though it unfit to broadcast "frivolous" foreign dance music. The radio preferred Gypsy music and Hungarian csardas dances. Now that everything is quiet again the radios resume the daily broadcast of jazz.

FIRE LOSSES CUT

Chicago Figures Show Total Second Lowest In 11 Years.

CHICAGO—(INS)—During 1938 fire losses in Chicago amounted to $5,700,000—the second lowest in 11 years—according to figures made public by Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan. The $3,712,000 lost in 1935 was the lowest since 1928 and the greatest loss during the same period was $11,065,436 in 1934. This was the year of the great stockyards' fire whose damage alone was estimated at $4,500,000.

THEATERS

THE season for annual film polls being at hand, that of the Minneapolis Journal poll is interesting for it is compiled from the opinions of 1,021 motion picture editors and critics in 48 states, from papers and magazines big and little. These critics gave the "best picture" award to "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs;" the award for the best performance by an actress to Bette Davis for "Jezebel;" and the best performance by an actor to Spencer Tracy for "Boys' Town." Lionel Barrymore was a runner-up to Tracy, while Margaret Sullivan was 350 points behind Miss Davis. "You Can't Take It With You" gave Walt Disney's lovely fantasy a close run.

Film Supplements Bill.

While the big attraction at the Ohio tomorrow and Saturday will be the Blackstone stage show, even this sure-fire attraction will be supplemented with a picture. Humphrey Bogart and Kay Francis in "King of the Underworld" will bring to that screen a study in man's vanity. Bogart, as king pin of the underworld is so impressed with himself that he kidnaps a writer to have a glowing biography of himself written. He also kidnaps a woman surgeon to dress the wounds of his henchmen, and thereby provides the vulnerable point in his armor.

Busy Little Spies.

Washington, D. C., is the locale of "Lone Wolf Spy Hunt", in which the gay and light-fingered knave of fiction, films and stage finds himself opposed to his old companions in crime. The international spy ring in the nation's capital is the theme around which the story revolves. Ida Lupino and Warren William head the cast. The other—and principal—feature on the Madison bill the last half of the week is Claudette Colbert in "Zaza", love story of the Paris music halls. Herbert Marshall is seen opposite her.

Cooper and Colbert.

Ernest Lubitsch's gay domestic comedy, "Blue Beard's Eighth Wife" brings Claudette Colbert and Gary Cooper to the Majestic for two days, starting tomorrow. This will be recalled as the story of the eccentric American millionaire who had seven wives before he met and married a gay, but determined French madamoiselle. David Niven and Edward Everett Horton are in the supporting cast. Clarence Mulford's "The Frontiersmen" with William Boyd also will be shown.

"Algiers" At Ritz.

Charles Boyer has one of his best roles—although all of the roles he plays become "best" because of his ability—in "Algiers" which heads the Ritz bill Friday and Saturday. He plays Pepe le Moko, the romantic fugitive in Algiers who casts liberty to the winds when a glamorously beautiful face enchants him. The picture marked the American screen debut of Hedy Lamarr, the sensational find of 1938. A western, "Guilty Trail" with Bob Baker, is added for the Friday-Saturday patron.

Code of Crookdom.

With the grim code of crookdom as its menace "Law of the Underworld" pictures the exciting adventures of a young couple helplessly dragged into peril as slaves of a master crook. This melodrama offers Chester Morris, Anne Shirley, Walter Abel and Eduardo Cianelli in top roles. "Delinquent Parents" revolves around the subject of parents who shirk their responsibilities as regards their children. The two pictures are offered at the Park the last half of the week.

TESTS HIGHWAY MINIMUM WAGE

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS — A test case on constitutionality of the statute requiring that highway department laborers receive a $100 a month minimum salary probably will be made soon, Highway Director Robert S. Beightler said today.

This action will be taken as a result of the protest by the Citizens Tax league of Ohio that the statue is unconstitutional because it passed during a special session called to consider poor relief. The Ohio constitution prohibits the legislature at special sessions from transacting business other than that for which the session was called.

"I think the position of the tax league was well taken. I think they may be correct in their contention," Beightler said.

For the present however he will continue to pay the prevailing rates, he said.

If the law is unconstitutional there would be a saving to the state and more employment, according to Beightler. If the law is constitutional all highway department laborers will be cut to the minimum of $100. This will be to correct the situation in which many laborers are being paid more than skilled draftsmen, he said.

IT'S A HIT! The NEW Firestone CHAMPION TIRE
Because IT'S THE ONLY TIRE MADE WITH THE NEW SAFETY-LOCK CORD BODY and GEAR-GRIP TREAD

CAR OWNERS everywhere are acclaiming the extra blowout protection and non-skid safety of the new Firestone Champion Tire. And automobile manufacturers, knowing its outstanding performance, have adopted it for their new 1939 models. On every hand you hear, "It's the most effective tire we have ever had on wet pavement and in mud and snow!" It's the hit of 1939!

The Firestone Champion Tire is a completely new achievement in safety engineering and the result of a new and revolutionary means of locking greater safety into the cord body of a tire. This is accomplished first, by the use of a new type of tire cord called "Safety-Lock," in which the cotton fibers are more compactly interwoven to give greater strength. And then the fibers in each individual cord, the cords in each ply and the plies themselves are all securely locked together by a new and advanced Firestone process of Gum-Dipping, which provides amazingly greater strength—and greater strength means greater safety.

The new Safety-Lock cord construction gives the added strength that makes possible the use of the new thicker, tougher, deeper Firestone Gear-Grip Tread, which provides remarkably longer non-skid mileage. This sensational new tread is called "Gear-Grip" because of its unique design which has more than three thousand sharp-edged angles that grip the road with a sure-footed hold to protect against skidding and to assure a safe stop.

AB JENKINS
World's Safest Driver
Ab Jenkins, holder of 87 world records for safety, speed and endurance, who has driven more than a million and a half miles on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires without an accident, says, "On the speedway or on the highway, I insist upon the extra safety of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires on my cars."

Come in today and equip your car with a set of new Firestone Champion Tires, the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

CHAPTER XXI

Bernice came in. "Lunch is ready." She put her arm around Alix. "Have you weakened, dear? I've always wanted a large family and now I'm going to have a son and another daughter. You're going to be one of us, Alix."

How good it was to be with them again, she thought, looking around the table! To be with Tod, and to feel wanted and welcome by Nancy and Bernice. Her despair about her future lessened. How complete it would be if Kurt were here, if Kurt made the sixth person at this table! Kurt as he had been that night in New York, his dark eyes happy, his mouth tender. . . . Bernice's soothing voice stopped the futile hope and dream.

"We're going to have a double wedding on the lawn of Ivy House next week, Alix. Don and I are going to live there when we return from France. Tod and Nancy are so devoted to the cottage they're going to live here."

Tod said, "We're not going to France. I never want to see another ship again."

Nancy smiled. "No, we're taking the car to New England. And at the wedding we're going to have only two attendants—you and Kurt." And Nancy thought, "When you say his name to Alix, her lashes are unsteady and there's pain in her eyes."

Alix folded her hands. "It's all so wonderful it . . ."

Don leaned forward. "But you aren't left out. We're taking care of you very nicely, Alix. You're going to live in Ivy House with Bernice and me. We're adopting you. You've seen your last typewriter, taken your last shorthand notes. And when you go after your things tonight, you'll see the last of Mrs. Bishop. We're telling you, not asking you. The clan had a meeting lasting until 2 o'clock this morning and decided. It's four against one. You're moving into Ivy House after the wedding, and until then you're staying here."

"You've got to," Bernice said. "It won't be complete without you. We want you, dear."

Looking from one to the other thoughtfully, Alix said, "I can't do anything else. Oh, it's so good to be with you again."

It took but a very short time for her to pack her things that night while Tod and Don waited in the hall. Am I happy, she wondered. For them, yes. But for myself . . . Will this make me happy?

Mrs. Bishop ceased peering through the curtains long enough to come into the hall to say goodbye. Alix, standing between the two tall blond men reminded her of a child about to go on a journey of unknown destination.

The days that preceded the wedding were so filled with preparations that Alix had little or no time to think of herself or to contemplate what lay before her. Shopping with Nancy and Bernice, receiving gifts, answering the telephone filled every moment of the day. She did manage to call Tuck who gently but firmly refused to attend the wedding.

"I don't like weddings, child," Tuck told her. "They make me think of the one I didn't have. Come down to see me as soon as the fuss is over. How are you?"

Alix said, "I'm swept along with the swift current. But I'll be down to see you soon."

Alix had telephoned from one of the bedrooms of Ivy House. Her bedroom was to be a large room with doors that opened out toa balcony. Swept along with the swift current, she thought again as she looked around the cool, lovely yellow and green room and then down at herself, at the simple printed ensemble which bore the name of a famous Parisian designer.

Hers. All hers. This room, the new dresses in the closet, the row of slippers, the row of cellaphane hat-boxes.

"We're adopting you," Don had said. But it was only borrowed luxury and she felt utterly unworthy and undeserving.

Gina was not in Baltimore for the wedding rehearsals, which proved an ordeal for Alix. Kurt came but in the confusion she spoke to him only briefly and he left as soon as he could, saying, "I have to meet Gina's train. See you tomorrow."

They dined festively at Ivy House that night. For the first time in six years the candelabra were lighted, the radio played softly, and the voices of a united family came from the dining-room.

Alix thought, "I can't believe it yet. I keep thinking it is only a visit and that Mrs. Bishop is looking through the curtains waiting for me to come in so she can lock the door for the night. I'm swept along . . . but to what, to what?"

Later Tod drew her aside.

Alix flecked an ash from his new diuner jacket, looked up and smiled at him. "Tomorrow," she said.

He nodded. "It's the beginning of my life. Alix, I can't tell you. . . ."

"Don't try, dear. I know. You're very happy. You're so happy it almost frightens you."

"But are you? That's what I'm coming to. I know you better than you think I do. I know that it takes more than this," he touched the band of diamonds on her arm, a gift from Bernice, "to make you happy. Nancy and I are like that, too. We're going to live sane lives and not let the money make any difference. We'd rather have the cottage than the swank town apartment." He looked straight into her eyes. "Anything you want to tell me? We'll be gone a month, you know."

She smiled. "I know what you're trying to say. Nancy told you how I feel about Kurt Deering, didn't she? And you met him today for the first time. But you didn't meet Gina Rowland, Tod. If you had, you'd know why he can't see any girl except her."

He patted her shoulder affectionately. "Sorry, kid. When they were passing around happiness, they certainly left you out."

UCC 'Ripper Bill' Up for Vote In Ohio Senate Today

LEADERS SEE VICTORY FOR OUSTER MOVE

Passage Would Remove Davey Appointees; Bill to Force Out Marx Introduced.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—Defying the united opposition of spokesmen for organized labor, the Bricker administration brought its first major "ripper" legislation up for a vote in the Ohio senate today.

Republican leaders confidentially predicted passage of the bill, which would abolish the three-member Ohio unemployment compensation commission and put an administrator in charge of the huge labor insurance system.

Labor already was smarting from the Republican-dominated house labor committee's refusal last night to approve its proposal to create a state labor relations act similar to the federal Wagner act.

Passage of the bill was urged by Thomas J. Donnelly, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Federation of Labor, and John Owens, district president of the United Mine Workers of America and Ohio chairman of the Congress of Industrial Organizations. But have been fighting reorganization of the compensation commission.

Speed Ouster Machinery.

On other fronts the Republicans' program to oust Democratic appointees of former Gov. Martin L. Davey gathered momentum.

Identical bills to abolish the two-member state civil service commission and substitute for it a three-member commission and an administrator were introduced in the senate and house.

The house also received a measure to oust Adj. Gen. Emil F. Marx, commanding officer of the Ohio National Guard, and his two top-ranking assistants. Their so-called "life tenure" would be abolished and their successors would be appointed to serve at the pleasure of Gov. John W. Bricker.

Introduction of a bill to abolish the four-member state tax commission and replace it with a commissioner - administrator and a three-member board of tax appeals was expected in the senate today.

The unemployment compensation "ripper" has been labeled by labor representatives as "dictatorial," "un-American one-man control" and a "political patronage proposition."

Governor Bricker reported that the opposition of Donnelly and Owens was "political and personal."

Republicans became incensed when former Governor Davey appointed Keith Lawrence, a Cleveland Democrat, to the commission in the final hours of the previous legislature, which the Democrats controlled.

Watson Launches Eligibility Check Of Ohio WPA Ranks

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Dr. Carl Watson, Works Progress Administrator for Ohio, today launched a wide-scale investigation to determine the eligibility of all persons receiving WPA aid.

He said 300 to 400 investigators would be assigned to the task, which must be completed before March 25. The record of each of the 245,500 persons employed by the WPA in Ohio will be checked.

Dr. Watson said that the inquiry was designed to see if the financial condition of persons receiving WPA aid has bettered. A recent check of 5,000 Cleveland cases, he added, revealed that 11 per cent of the WPA clients were ineligible.

The investigation was made mandatory by the recent WPA appropriation act.

Dr. Watson asserted that the bill also opened the way for mothers of dependent children and persons over 65 years of age to re-apply for WPA assistance.

Up and Down THE STREET

Twice a week you'll see Girl Scouts darting around in South park regardless of the weather. In fact the deeper the snow and the colder the winds, the more likely you are to see them. The girls keep the bird feeding stations well supplied with grain and suet which is a menu de luxe for robins, redbirds, martins and many varieties of winter birds. The feeding stations were made by NYA workers and placed in the park by the Audubon society, which also supplies the grain. The Girl Scouts bring the suet from their own homes.

The absence of the battered red lantern, which has been at stake in all athletic meetings between Mansfield and Ashland high school, was noticeable again last night when the two schools met on the court in the nearby city. It belongs to Mansfield by virtue of last night's 39-29 victory, but who has the lantern is a question. Ashland doesn't have it. Neither does Mansfield, according to the students. And none of the students can remember who had it last. So unless the lost is found, there'll be no trophy for future contests. The prize was first put into competition eight years ago by an Ashland cager, who "borrowed" the lantern off a highway project on a trip to Mansfield.

When Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity at Ohio university, Athens, elected new officers recently, two Mansfield students were among those chosen to head the group. Robert Banner, 101 Ausdale avenue, was elected vice president, and Richard Chapman, 620 Scholl road, was chosen as pledge supervisor. Both students are sophomores at the university.

Mansfield board of education members are telling this one on a member of the board who grew too enthusiastic on a recent visit to Shaw high school in Cleveland to inspect the equipment. After watching an attractive swimming instructor put her pupils through some difficult antics off the diving board, the visiting board member (they refuse to name him) remarked: "It's no wonder I didn't learn to swim when I went to school. With a teacher like that I'd have been a Weissmuller by now for who could sink with that kind of instruction?"

Conferences with trustees from six townships in the northern half of the county on their road plans for the year are scheduled for Monday at the courthouse, county commissioners said today.

The trustees, who will be the final group to meet with commissioners and the county engineer, will be asked to submit their road improvement and maintenance plans for 1939 and their requests for financial help from the county.

Trustees from the county's 12 other townships already have submitted their programs.

Monday's meeting schedule includes Plymouth township trustees at 9 a. m.; Cass township, 10 a. m.; Bloominggrove township, 11 a. m.; Butler township, 1 p. m.; Weller township, 2 p. m., and Franklin township, 3 p. m.

It was pointed out that perhaps the only chance of survival of John, 23, and Lee Districh, 26, and Norwood Howard, 18, all of nearby Gratz, was that mine timbers might have formed air pockets when the anthracite hole caved in.

MARK BIRTH OF P. T. A. TONIGHT

Brinkerhoff Members Observe Launching of Movement 42 Years Ago at Meeting.

Founding of the Parent-Teacher movement in Mansfield 42 years ago will be commemorated at 7:30 p. m. today when members of the Brinkerhoff Parent-Teacher association gather at the school.

The city's first parents' club, of which the present P. T. A. is an outgrowth, was formed in 1897 when three Mansfield women, Mrs. William M. Weldon, Mrs. Roeliff Brinkerhoff and Mrs. Frank B. Black met at Brinkerhoff school.

Officers of the Brinkerhoff association said the three founders have been invited to attend this evening's observance.

The program is being held in connection with Founders' Day observance of the national P. T. A. organization. Similar events have been planned by other P. T. A. units.

A one-act playlet, "Friday Afternoon at School" will be presented at Brinkerhoff tonight. It will depict school life of 50 years ago and will be staged by a group of parents under the direction of Mrs. William Bishop. The program also will include a "battle of the sexes" quiz bee with Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Gibson in charge.

Mrs. Bishop, program chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Hayes M. Braker, Mrs. V. P. Kevy, Mrs. Jack Robbins and Mrs. Carl Russell. Following the business meeting and program there will be a social hour with a birthday cake bearing 42 candles.

HINTS AT GRAFT IN STATE ORDERS

Purchasing Agent Says 'Pay Off' Made In Cotton Purchases.

COLUMBUS — (AP)—Charles J. Stark, state purchasing agent, reported today that apparently there was a "large pay-off" in the purchase of cotton for Ohio penitentiary last March.

Stark, in a statement to Finance Director William Evatt and released by Gov. John W. Bricker, said that $10,400 had been saved on various purchases made since Gov. Martin L. Davey left office Jan. 9.

He also said that Ohio had quantities of goods that it could not use and that a supply of coffee bought before Jan. 9 was "sufficient to meet a normal demand of our institutions for at least a year."

JALOPPIES HIT

Bill Would Refuse Licenses for Cars 10 Years Old or Older.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Those jalopies which wheeze along the highways with fenders trembling would be dealt a death blow if the Ohio legislature adopted Sen. Otto J. Bartunek's suggestion.

Bartunek, a Cleveland attorney, introduced a bill yesterday which would prohibit the issuance of license tags for any motor vehicle ten years old or older.

MOVE TO VINDICATE PERKINS IN IMPEACHMENT CASE GAINS

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — The house judiciary committee will vindicate Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and her aides of impeachment charges unless there are extraordinary developments in the case, a canvass of the committee members disclosed today.

Final action of the committee on the impeachment charges, filed by Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R) of New Jersey, may be delayed for a week, in spite of a drive of a group of members for prompt action.

The big fight in the committee, it was disclosed, is likely to come on an effort to censure the department of labor for its action in deportation and immigration matters instead of the Thomas resolution, which seeks to impeach its officers.

The committee canvass showed that both leading Democratic and Republican members of the committee believe that Thomas has failed to make out an impeachment case.

Rep. Celler (D) of New York, hoped to force the issue at the next setting of the committee.

"I shall move to exonerate Miss Perkins at the first opportunity," he announced. "There is no ground for the charges."

Rep. Walter (D) of Pennsylvania joined other Democratic members in predicting exoneration of the secretary.

"I don't see how the committee could do otherwise," he said. "I don't think there is much to it."

A leading Democrat, one of two named by chairman Sumners (D) of Texas, to conduct an examination of records of the labor and justice departments in the deportateion cases against Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader, and Joseph Strecker, said privately that Miss Perkins will be exonerated.

PROBE AID ASKED

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Howard Harris, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, was asked today by Norwood police to aid in solving the asphyxiation slaying of Willard H. Armstrong, 38, Sunday school superintendent, in his apartment Sunday.

GLASS CHARGES PRESIDENT WITH 'PURGE' ACTION

Senator Answers Letter With Assertion Executive Seeks to Unseat Virginians.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—A charge by Senator Glass (D-Va) that President Roosevelt is seeking to unseat Virginia's two Democratic senators enlivened today the controversy over the senate's 72-to-29 rejection of a judgeship nomination.

The 81-year-old Glass declared in a statement last night that the president had failed to accord the Virginia senators "the common courtesy" of discussing with them his appointment of Floyd H. Roberts to the federal bench in Virginia.

He was replying to a presidential letter to Roberts which criticized the senate for refusing to confirm the nomination.

Endorsed State Judge.

Glass and his colleague, Senator Byrd (D-Va), had endorsed A. C. Buchanan, a state judge, and Frank Tavenner, assistant federal attorney, for the position. They had described Roberts' selection as "personally offensive."

Discussing Buchanan, Glass said in his seven-page statement:

"It is to be deplored from every point of view that he should have been rejected by the appointive power merely through a desire to 'purge' the junior senator (Byrd) next year and the senior senator of Virginia later if I should live longer than the intriguers hope."

There have been reports that the organization of Gov. James H. Price of Virginia would put a candidate in the field against Byrd in 1940. Glass' term expires in 1943.

The statement by Glass put the next move in the controversy up to the president, who must nominate another for the judgeship.

Glass said he did not recall ever having met Judge Buchanan and declared, "this is no fight for patronage. I do not care a tinker's dam for patronage."

FAIR ENOUGH!

Social Security Reserve Pictured As Hidden Tax On Wage Earners In U. S.

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—John Flynn has a piece in Harper's called "The Social Security Reserve Swindle," from which it would appear that this country's only hope lies in the possibility of his being wrong.

He gives little comfort on that score, for he is one of those tip-of-the-tongue, I'm-glad-you-asked-me writers who can carry in his head a string of figures as long as the score-by-innings, and he never steps back.

John is saying that, in the first place, a government insurance plan needs no great reserve, because a government can put the bite on the citizens for the necessary money as it goes along. If it puts a great big lump into dead storage, that it not so good, because the money ought to be on the loose among the people, buying shoes for the baby and all like that.

If it invests in the property or industry, then pretty soon private industry is paying taxes to finance cut-throat rivals in which the government is a partner. And, if it invests the money in its own bonds, at 3 per cent, and spends both principal and interest for current expenses, the money is gone and the bonds are strictly Peruvian.

That is what they are doing with the reserve. Employe and employer pay their money into a kitty, but, instead of saving it for them, the treasury grabs it as fast as it comes in, dropping in its I. O. U.'s, and spends it off on quoddies and rest cures for tired cabineteers. It pays the reserve 3 per cent on these touches, but that interest money, too, is then lifted out and spent and replaces in the reserve for further I. O. U.'s.

"All the time," says John, "the government will pay interest on the reserve. To pay this interest, it will have to impose additional taxes. By 1942, it will have to raise taxes for interest of $84,000,000. By 1950, almost $500,000,000."

John calls this a fraud, because the people were given to believe that the benefits would be paid out of the tax on the payroll and wage of American industry and labor.

Harper's costs 40 cents, which is more than most people can afford to pay for good news, much less for bad, so I hope John will warm over his piece for the 3-cent trade. He writes, for all that I can detect to the contrary, a very high-learned type of knowing on this kind of thing, but does it in language that can be understood by my friend George Spelvin, the average American, known earlier, in the phrase of the late Bill Shepherd, as the milkman in Omaha.

If Mr. Spelvin and the milkman are being swindled out of their social security contributions and losing wages, too, as employers cut payrolls and replace men with machines to reduce their social security taxes, all in a pretense of creating a reserve which is spent as fast as it comes in, why, men, that there is stealing! If John is right, then the social security embodies and conceals an income tax on a lot of people whom congress, in its wisdom and pity, expressly exempted from the regular income tax on the ground that it would be a shame to take their money.

There has been other writing and talk to this effect, but it is a free topic, and Mr. Flynn is the first to picturize a pyramiding deficit which isn't carried on the regular books at all, but on the cuff, and falsely represented as a reserve.

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—If you're writing letters to the editor about that English girl who was chosen for that southern role (don't mention it!) I think you're just obliging the producer who made the choice. After all these years there's not much else to keep the subject alive.

The "westerns" are always with us, but so are the jails. . . . Occasionally, as now, studios splurge on "big westerns," meanwhile keeping up the flow of bread-and-butter little ones. . . . But always and forever, whatever the film cycle, the jail sets are busy. . . . At Warner's, where today nearly a dozen flickers have at least one prison sequence, they keep the bars up all the time and the striped suits on tap in the wardrobe department. . . . Typically, the movies have explored cinematically Alcatraz, San Quentin and Sing Sing, and have even gone abroad to Devil's Island, but they've overlooked Terminal Island—which is too close to home (San Pedro) for a producer to see. . . . If they're just waiting till Terminal gets a box-office name, Al Capone is there now.

Nobody at the "U" knows yet whether that sulphur pit (in which Frankenstein's monster met his most recent death) had a trapdoor in the bottom. . . . But from "Son of Frankenstein's" box-office reception you can be sure that there WAS. . . . They planted it clearly that you can't kill a monster—with fire, bullets, or whatnot, and why should boiling sulphur do it?

Crane Wilbur, one-time silent star, is making his first feature talkie, "Hero for a Day." . . . When this was "The Star Witness" a few years ago the heavies were gangsters. . . . This time they're a trio of unofficial private detectives—and newsreaders will recognize some similarity to Los Angeles' recent, notorious Kynette bombing case. . . . Wilbur was hero to the late Pearl White in "The Perils of Pauline." . . . Lately has been doing those patriotic, historical Americanism "shots."

That dance which is one of the few light moments in "Wuthering Heights" is the Roger de Coverly—named after the same who wrote the Papers. . . . Merle Oberon, dancing it, looks like a pink taffy puff in that costume.

John Payne has gone into "The Roaring Road" (which is James Cagney's old friend "Red-Hot Tires" in new guise) . . . And Wife Anne Shirley has exacted a promise he won't "drive over a hundred"—which he won't, at least in the picture. . . . Speed-lover or not, Johnny'll have a double.

It's American inventors' year in the movies: Alexander Graham Bell at 20th Century-Fox, and Thomas A. Edison — two flickers, Edison the boy, and Edison the man—at Metro. . . . And some day they'll make a movie about the man who invented movies—if they ever can settle the argument.

Maybe it's old but Nigel Bruce (in "Hound of the Baskervilles") tells it like no one else. . . . Seems he paid a visit to his native England some years ago and found himself in a club frequented by retired army officers who spent most of their time there. . . . Asked what he was doing, Bruce replied he worked in picture. . . . "Oh," inquired one, "in oils or water colors?"
